

LET "DANDERINE"

SAVE YOUR HAIR

CHECK UGLY DANDRUFF! STOP HAIR COMING OUT AND DOUBLE ITS BEAUTY

A little "Danderine" cools, cleanses and makes the feverish, itchy scalp soft and pliable; then this stimulating tonic penetrates to the hair roots, revitalizing and invigorating every hair in the head, thus stopping the hair falling out, or getting thin, dry or fading.

After a few applications of "Danderine" you seldom find a fallen hair or a particle of dandruff, besides every hair shows new life, vigor, brightness, more color and thickness.

A few cents buys a bottle of delightful "Danderine" at any drug or toilet counter.

LIFT OFF CORNS!

Doesn't hurt a bit and costs only a few cents

Magic! Just drop a little Freezone on that touchy corn, instantly it stops itching, then you lift the corn off with the fingers. Truly! No humbug!

Try Freezone! Your druggist sells a tiny bottle for a few cents, sufficient to rid your feet of every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and calluses, without one particle of pain, soreness or irritation. Freezone is the discovery of a noted Cincinnati genius.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. James Brazill.

The death of Julia Sullivan, wife of the late James Brazill, occurred on March 4 at her home in Norwich, she was 33 years old and had been sick only a short time.

Mrs. Brazill was born in this city and was married to the late James Brazill on Oct. 29, 1886, at Rev. J. E. Kelley. For years Mr. Brazill was employed in the old railroad shops on North Main street. The family moved to St. Louis about 30 years ago.

She is survived by her four daughters, Misses Julia and Nell Brazill in St. Louis and Margaret and Elizabeth Brazill who reside in Ireland. Both were born in Norwich and Elizabeth is a sister in a convent.

The only son of the deceased, John Brazill, has been a freight agent in St. Louis for years. He lately located in Minneapolis, Minn., and is a general freight man for the Lehigh Valley road and he will soon move his family to that city.

Charles E. Beckwith.

Charles Everett Beckwith, a former hack driver in New London, died Sunday evening at his home in Crescent Beach. Death came while he was sleeping.

Mr. Beckwith was born in New London 18 years ago, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lamon Beckwith of Town Greenville. He was educated in East Lyme for the past 15 years.

Besides his widow he leaves one son, Charles Beckwith; a grandson, who resides in Waterford, and a sister, Mrs. Anne Beckwith Fish of New Haven.

Peter R. Thom, well known in Norwich, died at the home of his son, George W. Thom, in Los Angeles last Thursday. Mr. Thom for many years was employed by the Smith-Winchester company at South Windham and later was one of the owners of the Glage Paper company. He was also connected with the Garvey and Thorpe Paper company at South Windham. For the past 35 years he has been with the Kimberly & Clark paper mills at Appleton, Wis., where his family still resides.

WILL TRY TO SAVE WESTERLY TROLLEY

In the effort to save the service of the Norwich and Westerly trolley line to Norwich and the territory through which the trolley travels a mass meeting of the citizens has been called for this (Tuesday) afternoon at the town hall at 3 o'clock, largely through the efforts of residents and the town authorities. Bar North Stonington have in keeping the road running through their territory, if possible.

What form the meeting will take could not be learned Monday night by anyone who could be reached. At this connected with the meeting. It is understood that the initial move to see what could be done to keep the Norwich and Westerly trolley running took place in the meeting of Norwich grange, No. 112, a week ago last Wednesday, when on motion of John E. Canning, it was voted to ask Receiver Robert W. Perkins to defer immediate discontinuance of service and a grange committee was appointed to notify North Stonington grange and Ledyard grange of the danger of losing the trolley service. Mr. Fanning, Charles A. Hagberg and Edward Cook were named on the committee which notified the other granges.

Norwich people immediately took steps to do something and engaged Attorney Frank L. McGuire of New London to appear before the superior court last Friday in New London and also to confer with Receiver Perkins, who agreed to withdraw his petition which was before the court for authority to discontinue the trolley service on the ground that it could not be continued except at a loss. It was the understanding that the North Stonington people be given time to see if they could work out a plan which would guarantee the receiver against loss if he should keep the line running.

Mr. Perkins said Monday night that he had not been invited to attend the meeting Tuesday but he believed Attorney McGuire was to see him before the meeting.

The month of February will make a bad showing for trolley roads, Mr. Perkins said Monday night, on account of the heavy expense incurred through lighting snow. The mass meeting will show a deficit in operating expenses of about $26,000, largely on account of the snow. This will bring the total deficit in operating expenses under the receiver to about $58,000. The Boston elevated road had an expense in February of $352,000 on account of the heavy expense incurred through lighting snow. The Connecticut company shows expense of $150,000 for the same reason. A street railway journal which has recently published a resume of the trolley situation shows that there is hardly a road south of the Mason and Dixon line that is not in the hands of receivers, and the Massachusetts commission's report shows that 123 miles of trolley roads in that state have been abandoned and 115 miles have been suspended on 115 miles of road.

STUMBLING CUSTOMERS GAVE CLUE TO HOME-STEAL

Charged with operating an illicit moonshine whiskey still at 151 Main street, New London, Paul R. Parmitzky, arrested by Deputy Collector of Customs, was taken to court Saturday on a hearing before United States Commissioner Frank L. McGuire in New London Monday morning. Probable cause was found in Parmitzky's still had been found in the United States district court. Bonds were fixed at $1,500 and U. S. Marshal William B. Palmer of New Haven granted Parmitzky the balance of the day in which to secure a bond.

"Evidence presented by Deputy Collector Barry showed that Parmitzky had in his possession a home-made still and that some of the product of the still had been sold to at least two different persons in the city. Parmitzky constructed the still from copper alleged to have been stolen from the Groton Iron Works.

Gert Nelson Smith testified that the police had been watching Parmitzky's place for some time and that frequently persons had been noticed stumbling out of the premises in an intoxicated condition. Patrolman Sloc testified that the complaint against Parmitzky was made by a man named Decker, who lived in the same building. Later Parmitzky's wife showed the still to the police.

CARPENTERS HOLD OUT FOR $1 AN HOUR WAGE

The wage readjustment between the building trades and the master builders has been held up by the carpenters. Several meetings between special committees have been held and the matter talked over. The master builders have offered to compromise the matter but the carpenters have refused to accept the offer. A special committee empowered to act in behalf of the carpenters met with the committee representing the master builders at the present time, when the compromise was presented to the carpenters.

The master builders are willing to advance the minimum wage from 55 cents per hour to 58 cents per hour, but the carpenters have refused this and are holding out for their demands of $1 per hour.

WOMAN DROWNED FROM BARGE IN THE SOUND

Josephine Shea, of No. 253 Green street, New Haven, was drowned in Long Island sound Sunday forenoon when she either fell or jumped from the barge Blue Bonnet, owned by the Blue Island Transportation company of New York and bound from New Haven to New London. The body was recovered and brought to New London, where it is at an undertaking establishment awaiting a claimant. The victim was about 34 years of age.

According to the captain of the barge, the Blue Bonnet was one of several barges of the tow of the tug James McWilliams and her cargo was consigned to the Thames River Speculations company of Montville. The Shea woman boarded the craft in New Haven where the tow had been held up a day or two. The start was made for New London early Sunday morning. About 8 o'clock the woman left the cabin, presumably for the purpose of removing snow from the deck. That was the last seen of her until she was observed in the water. An alarm was given and the captain of the tug caused the tow line to be cast off and the tug put about and recovered the body, which had remained on the water's surface.

Medical Examiner Hayes conducted an investigation and it was determined that the Shea woman went aboard the barge Saturday and that a drinking party followed. Sunday morning when she was seen on the deck she appeared jovial and her conduct was not noted until after she was in the water. The body being observed 100 feet astern of the barge by a bargeman. The official act in connection with the woman's death is suspected.

NORWICH SURVEY MAPS PLACED IN STATE LIBRARY

(Special to Bulletin)

Hartford, March 22.—Among a number of interesting maps which have been received by the Connecticut State Library from General Theodore A. Bingham, U. S. A., Engineer Corps are three tracings of original surveys of the town of Norwich in the year 1659.

One map which shows the main road from Norwich to Hartford, illustrates the position of Ox Hill on the east side, and one the north side of the main road, from Center Hill, are shown the original home lots of William Backus, Olmstead, Rev. J. Fitch and S. Gifford.

On the south side is shown the lots of Mason F. Waterman, T. Bingham, J. Post, Bowers, Richardson, Wadsworth, Gager, T. Post, Edgerton, Ensign, W. Backus, Jr., H. Calkins and J. Calkins. The map shows a road leading from the town of Norwich to the north side of the river, and the original home lots on this hill belonging to Griswold, Alyn, Royce, Baldwin, H. Tracy and Pease.

The northern section of the survey shows the roads to Scotland and Woodstock and in the southwest section Wauwuc Hill is located. The map is elaborated from Miss Calkins' history of Norwich.

Another map of original proprietors of home lots in 1659 in Norwich Town, and which is elaborated from a map of streets, Norwich town, in the year of 1705, which was published in the early evening of the "Antiquities of Houses, Etc." of Norwich, 1895, with metes and bounds added from original records, shows the road to New London leading in westerly ward, to a road leading north and intersecting the road leading indirectly west to Hartford.

The third original survey presented to the library shows the original home lots in 1659 between Green and Bean Hill (Westville). The main road shown is that of West Town street, which stretches from the road to Norwich to the Hartford turnpike.

The information included on this map was compiled by General Theodore A. Bingham, U. S. A., Engineer Corps, assisted by Charles E. Chandler of Norwich and Mrs. Edna M. Rogers of Norwich.

The map, which records the locations of his lands of early settlers of Connecticut are of such value from an educational as well as a historical standpoint. General Bingham has spent many hours in study at the state library and is very much interested in the work which he has presented the library.
